

BEER TAX BILL TO BE ACTED UPON AT CAPITOL TONIGHT

Decks To Be Cleared For Action at Tonight's Session

TO GO ON FIRST READING

Sowers-Connor Bill Proponents Expected to Wage Bitter Battle

By Robert F. Girard
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, May 1.—The Legislature of Pennsylvania is scheduled to adjourn sine-die this week, but each week since April 13th, similar adjourning were amended, so that with the legislators returning to the capitol after the week-end recess, none could be found willing to state positively that final adjournment would come with the conclusion of the week's work. It is known agreements must be made and kept on the most important legislation of the session, or the Assembly will be here indefinitely.

Governor Pinchot, Senator Harry B.
Scott, and Representative J. E. Steedle were to confer today in an effort to veto one of its agreements on the General Appropriations Bill.

The McClure beer control bill is on the second reading calendar of the House tonight and the program calls for final action on the measure tomorrow.

Leading proponents of the Sowers-Connor bill, which was vetoed by Governor Pinchot, are expected to wage another battle against the McClure measure and there is a possibility that its final enactment will be delayed.

While the House is working with the control bill, the Senate will prepare the decks for action on the administration beer tax bill, already passed by the lower branch. It is understood this measure will be reported to the floor and passed on the first reading tonight.

Backstage Life Shown In Famed Film, "42nd Street"

"Three good tunes and a kick in the pants for your show blackout.
Can you make a hit out of it?"

These are the first sentences in Bradford Ropes' novel, "42nd Street," and they color the length of Warner Bros.' new gigantic picture of the same name which comes to the Grand Theatre today for three days, with a matinee each day at 2:30.

In the picture, the words are addressed to Warner Baxter, who plays the role of a veteran stage director with a hundred hits to his credit. What he does to the three good tunes and the kick in the pants form the basis for "42nd Street."

But not quite all of it. Warner Bros.
have gathered together in this tale of the Rialto's backstage, a gripping dramatic story of the theatre of today, of the problems, heartaches and tears,
of the good times, lighthearted camaraderie and carefree days, when there's money in the pocket, forty weeks more of work ahead, and nothing to worry about, all of which make up stage existence.

Chorus girls—to the number of about 150—stars, directors, singers, song writers, hoofers, crooners, comics, heavies, juveniles and ingenues—they're all there. And Warner Baxter, Bebe Daniels, George Brent, Una Merkel, Ruby Keeler (Mrs. Al. Jolson to you, and you'd better watch for her!), Guy Kibbee, Ned Sparks, Dick Powell, Ginger Rogers, Allen Jenkins, Henry B. Walthall, Edw. J. Nugent, Harry Akes—a dozen others.

Ruby Keeler dances.

Bebe Daniels and Dick Powell sing.
But, as with any picture worth its salt, "42nd Street" doesn't depend on any one thing or player. It has a story that takes its place among the best stories of the stage. More than that, it has a story within that story—a play within a play. Deftly and explicitly, it mingles these elements into a spectacular and vastly entertaining whole—a picture that takes rank with the best of this or any year.

Many Play Cards To Aid Fourth Ward Boys

A card party was held last evening in the Hibernian Hall, by the committee in charge of the Fourth Ward boys and was for the benefit of the boys of that ward to defray expenses for Boys' Week.

There were 16 tables formed, 14 of pinocle and 2 of "500".

High scores in pinocle were: John Kervick, 781; H. Healey, 766; Frank McCole, 759; Jack Duffy, 759; Anna Gosline, 748. High scores in "500" were Catherine Dugan, 3290, and Mrs.
F. Nealis, 3210.

HULMEVILLE

The Peppy Pals will be guests of Miss Myrtle Egly tomorrow evening.
At the residence of Mrs. Harold Dasenburg tomorrow evening, musicians interested in forming an orchestra for the Neshaminy M. E. Church will gather. All who can play instruments are invited to attend the meeting.

If you're wise—you'll advertise.

ville and Uswick.

TO ARGUE AKRON CRASH

Washington, D. C., May 1.—Arguments were scheduled today in the Navy court of inquiry investigation into the crash of the airship Akron.
Lt. Commander Ralph E. Pennoyer, Judge Advocate of the Court, plans to summarize the lengthy testimony which has been presented and reveal his views as to what conclusions he believes should be reached as to the causes and responsibility for the disaster which cost the lives of 73 men.
Following the judge advocate's arguments, Captain S. G. Jackson, who was appointed to look out for the interests of the late Commander Frank C. Mc-Cord, who was in command of the Akron when it plunged into the sea, will make a statement. The Court plans to draft its conclusions as speedily as possible.

FIVE HUNDRED ATTEND I. O. O. F. ANNIVERSARY

Service Held in Salem Reformed Church, at Doylestown

REV. FREEMAN SPEAKS

DOYLESTOWN, May 1.—Five hundred attended the service in Salem Reformed Church, here, last evening, marking the 114th anniversary of the founding of Odd Fellowship in America.

The anniversary sermon based on the motto of the I. O. O. F. order was "Friendship, Love and Truth." This was delivered by the Rev. Charles F.
Freeman, minister of the church. The Rev. Freeman is a most active member of the I. O. O. F. lodge, and is grand chaplain of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania.

Lodges from all sections of Bucks County were represented, together with Rebekahs and Encampments.

Yesterday was known as the annual "Founders' Day" and the Memorial services honored those who have given much through their association with Odd Fellowship.

The service was also featured by special numbers by the large choir of the church. Ushers were: J. Warren Angeney, Benjamin H. Barnes, Earl Mood, Frank Brunner.

At the conclusion of the service, Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, with members of their families, were given an opportunity to inspect the tile-work about the pulpit.

World's Largest Blimp Aloft

In her element for the first time, the U. S. Army airship TC-13 is shown just after she took off on her trial flight from Akron, Ohio. The TC-13 is the largest non-rigid airship in the United States, having a gas capacity of 360,000 cubic feet. She is 225 feet long. Inset is Major W. A. Kepner, commander of the blimp.

STRIVE FOR HIGH MORALE FOR WORKERS

Officials Warn Shirkers There Will Be Plenty of Work

LACK OF MONOTONY

(This is the second of a series of three stories by Edward B.
Lockett describing work and play programs in the new reforestation camps. — I. N. S.)

By Edward B. Lockett
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, May 1.—(INS)— President Roosevelt's reforestation corps will live much like the soldiers of the nation's fighting forces—except that there won't be the monotony of military drill as in the army.

Living conditions for the men enrolled will be similar to those of the army simply because army methods have been found to be the best for handling large bodies of personnel.
Soldiers in the new quarter-million-man army of work will not be drilled.
They do not specifically "enlist."
They are under no airtight obligation to serve any specific length of time.
Only in the sense that the employment group embraces a great number of men and that its administration impels a certain amount of discipline is it an army.

The food will be just as good as Army rations. Often it will be better.
Forces working in the forests will be able to procure more fresh food than the Doughboys.

Personnel will be under Army supervision demanding a clean camp, regularity of habits and a high morale.
The men will not be expected to maintain a schedule as rigid and tiring as the Army demands. Because the Army is the only force qualified to carry the burden of personal supervision of the forestry workers, their mode of life will be formulated somewhat along Army lines of life.

Another thing. Neither the Army, which is supervising the work camps, nor the forest service, which will supervise the actual work in the woods, wants shirkers.

"We have a job to do," R. Y. Stuart, Chief of the Forest Service, said. "We want to do it well. We want this corps to be as fine as any in the forest service. We want a high morale, and we want our men happy. We don't want men who are going to lay down on the job. One man of this type can ruin the morale of a whole camp. If a man comes to our camps and doesn't want to work, we'll just have to find some way to move him along."

Taps will be sounded in the work camps at 9:30 p. m. under present plans, and the old Navy yell, "Hit the Deck," will probably come at 6 a. m.
Back in the Army camps where many of the men were started toward the woods with two weeks of calisthenics and woodcraft training, everything in camp had to be shipshape by breakfast time at 7 a. m., and the same regulations will be effective in the work camps.

Also—the regulation of no bath, no breakfast will be effective. Plenty of soap will be provided, and the men will be expected to keep themselves and their clothes clean.

"Our forest service camps are clean as a hound's tooth," Stuart said. "We don't tolerate anything but cleanliness. That's the first lesson of a real woodsman."

The question of lunch will be up to the camp commanders, probably. At times the men will be working in an area close to the camp, and can come in for lunch. At other times, when the work goes far afield by noon, probably cooks will accompany the two hundred workers, and will serve hot, nourishing food within a hundred yards of the working locale.

SEVERAL HUNDRED AT PRESENTATION OF FLAG

C. W. Brinsor, Phila., Makes Presentation Speech For Fidelity Council

HAVE SPLENDID PARADE

EDGELY, May 1.—Flag presentation ceremonies were held Saturday afternoon at the Edgely school when an emblem was given by Fidelity Council, No. 21, Fraternal Patriotic Americans, of Bristol, to Edgely public school.
The presentation speech was made by C. W. Brinsor, Philadelphia, state secretary of the F. P. A., the banner being accepted by Arthur G. Wilkinson, a member of Bristol Township board of school directors.

Making their way from Bristol to a point on Bristol Pike at the lower end of this village, members of the color guard and band of Evening Star Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., Burlington, N. J.; Bristol Council, No. 58, Daughters of America; P. O. S. of A., the P. O. of A.;
and Fidelity Council, formed a parade and proceeded to the public school grounds where the exercises occurred.
Included in the procession were about 250 children, including Anna Haines garbed as Betsy Ross, and Richard Cooper dressed as George Washington.
The two carried an American flag.

The flag raising program included: Invocation, the Rev. William Rogers; singing, "Star Spangled Banner," Edgely school glee club; vocal selections, "How Betsy Made the Flag," Anna Haines and Richard Cooper, assisted by glee club; "Raise the Flag," glee club; "A Song for Our Flag," Kenneth Walterick; "Guard the Flag," and "America for Me," glee club;
"America," audience and glees; presentation of flag, followed by raising of banner.

Mr. Brinsor, introduced by Principal Miller, in presenting the flag to the school on behalf of Fidelity Council, stressed the necessity of instilling patriotism in the children while they are young, and still of school age. He told they should be instructed in having great respect for the flag and the republic for which it stands. Following the short speech of acceptance by Arthur Wilkinson, in which he expressed sincere appreciation to the donors, the banner was raised to the top of the pole. Five hundred small American flags fluttered earthward as the flag was unfurled. Several hundred attended the exercises.

HAS VALUABLE BIBLE

MARS, Pa.—(INS)—A Bible printed in English and published in 1497—just five years after Columbus discovered America—is the proud possession of J. Anderson Kennedy, local resident.
Kennedy obtained the Bible from his father, who brought it to this country from Ireland.

BUTLER.—The Butler Rotary Club has sponsored 15 crippled children's clinics for Butler County in ten years, in which Pittsburgh orthopedic specialists have examined more than 850 children. Many of this number have received treatment, including a number of important operations.

At the first clinic held in 1923 more than 200 were examined, and at the last clinic 37 children were examined.
The Rotary Club is assisted by the State Welfare Department in the costs of these clinics and in maintaining a nurse to do follow-up work.

PITTSBURGH.—Statisticians figured out that free hospital care for unemployed in Pennsylvania was costing $27 a minute, every minute of the day.
A total of 230 hospitals give free service to jobless, for which they receive only a partial return from the state.

ROLLER SKATING RACES TO BE HELD HERE TONIGHT

Contests Are To Be Held On Radcliffe and Mill
Streets

FIRST EVENT IS AT 6 30

Roller skating races and municipal election for boy officials are the program for today in connection with Boys' Week.

The roller skating contests are to be staged tonight on Radcliffe street, beginning at Green Lane, where the senior class will start at 6:35. The junior class in this event will start at 6:30 at Jefferson avenue and Radcliffe street. Both contests will be held down Radcliffe street, along Mill to Pond street.

Police will close Mill and Radcliffe streets, between the points mentioned at all traffic during the races.

Boys today are casting their ballots for borough officials. The ballot box is in the tax office of Louis B. Gilton.
The polls close at five o'clock. The ballots will be counted this evening by members of the Board of Directors of the Bristol Rotary Club.

A Burgess, tax collector, justice of peace and 18 councilmen will be chosen. A chief of police, superintendent of public safety and fire chief will be appointed and a president of council will be chosen on Thursday afternoon.

WILL NOT SEW

Bristol Branch of the Needlework Guild of America will not meet for sewing tomorrow afternoon due to the fact that there is a card party by the Edgely Branch at the residence of Mrs. Thomas Hawkes.

District Judge Charles C. Bradley, of Lemars, Ia., who was dragged from his court by a mob of 600 farmers who mauled and choked him with a rope in an effort to induce him to swear he would sign no more farm foreclosures. When the judge refused, they told him to pray before they hung him. His prayer, asking "justice for all men," sobered
the mob and he was released.

SPRING HORSE SHOW HERE ATTRACTS LARGE CROWD

Horsemen From Nearby Communities Participate in the Program

A SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

A touch of the early nineties was injected into the Spring Horse Show given by the Bristol Riding Club yesterday afternoon, when a tally-ho drawn by four perfectly-matched geldings wended its way into the show grounds amid cheers from the large gathering.

The tally-ho driven by George Seigle brought a coach filled with members of the Pennypack Riding Club of Philadelphia to participate in some of the 12 events on the program.
A big crowd of spectators fully enjoyed the competition given by more than a hundred entrants in jumping, saddle and harness classes, and as a climax the mile and a quarter steeplechase won by Clarence Powell on "Dagin," the fast Canadian gelding owned by Raymond Hunt of the Bristol club.

Horses and riders from the Four Horsemen Club, Delaware County, Philadelphia Riding Club, Longacre Riding Club, Princeton, N. J., New Hope Riding Club, Evergreen Stables, Pennypack Club and Hilltop Farms were entered in each class.

Mrs. David O'Dell, riding "Silver Fiz," a Hiltop entry, carried off the Dr. J. Fred Wagner trophy, awarded for the most points scored during the meet. Miss A. Wyman, representing the Longacre Farms, was another heavy winner during the day, getting several ribbons and a trophy. Frank Donnelly, Clarence Powell, Carl Schilling and Mrs. Vanuxem Morris were local winners.

Winners in the pony class were Carl Schilling, 1st; John Geary, 2nd; Robert Springer, 3rd.

Fandozzi-Giagnacova Wedding Takes Place, St. Ann's Church

A wedding took place in St. Ann's R. C. Church, Dorrance and Pond streets, yesterday at four p. m., when Miss Mary Joe Giagnacova, daughter of Philip Giagnacova, 300 Lafayette street, became the bride of Nicholas Fandozzi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pasquale Fandozzi, 421 Lafayette street.
The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Marcellini Romagnolo, rector.
Miss Frances Tamburella, Dorrance street, played the wedding march. During the ceremony, Percy Ford, Jackson street, sang "Ave Maria" and "Requiem."

Miss Lena Giagnacova, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid; and the best man was Thomas Juno, Jefferson avenue. The ushers included Carlo Juno, Patrick Giagnacova, cousin of the bride; L. D'Onofrio, nephew of the groom.

The bride was attractive in a gown of white bridal satin fashioned on form-fitting lines. The bridal veil of tulle edged with lace was five yards in length and fastened to a cap of tulle and lace, trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and calla-lilies.

The bridesmaid wore pale blue taffeta, made on long close-fitting lines.
She wore a small lace hat, and moire slippers the tone of her gown, and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses.

A reception was held at the home of the groom's parents. Mr. and Mrs.
Fandozzi left last evening by motor for a trip through the New England states. They will be gone one week.
They will reside with the groom's parents.

YOUNG MAN SHOT WHEN TRIO ARGUE AT LEHMAN PLACE

Francis Flynn, 20, Hit in The Right Ankle And Foot

65 SHOT ARE REMOVED

Eugene Lehman is Released Under $1000 Bail For Further Hearing

As the result of a shooting affray early this morning, Eugene Lehman, 47, is being held under $1,000 bail charged with shooting Francis Flynn, 20. Lehman operates a service station and restaurant along the Highway, south of Mill street.

Flynn, who resides on Swain street, is in the Harriman Hospital, where an X-ray is to be taken of his right leg and foot. Sixty-five small shots have already been removed from the injured member and physicians claim there are still 35 remaining to be removed.

Lehman was arrested immediately following the shooting and was released under $1,000 bail for a further hearing, May 11th, before Justice of Peace, James Guy.

According to the police they were called to the Lehman place shortly after midnight. Flynn and Edward Margerum, 27, Corson street, it appears, entered the Lehman place but were refused service by Lehman. He charges that Flynn was intoxicated.
The pair were ordered to leave the place and an argument ensued.

Lehman brought an old rifle into play and shot at Flynn's feet. The shots entered the right ankle and foot.

BOYS' WEEK

This is the week when boys are supreme and from now until and including next Saturday boys will be the center of interest in Bristol, Croydon and Edgely.

Boys' Week has become an established custom here and it has become firmly fixed in the minds of not only the youngsters themselves, but many adults as well.

Some thought the movement should have been dispensed with this year and that the money raised to finance the affair should be devoted to the procurement of shoes and clothing for those boys in the community, who are without these necessities of life.

However, when a vote was taken upon the matter, the majority favored holding Boys' Week.

Perhaps it is just as well, as the staging of Boys' Week will afford relaxation from the thoughts of hard times not only for the boys but for the adults of the community as well. It is designated as Boys' Week but it has been found that which interests the boys also interests the adults to a large extent.

A COMMON DUTY

The Liverpool Chamber of Commerce attaches no exaggerated importance to the coming world economic conference when it declares that it must succeed at whatever sacrifice by any of the participating nations, if it means common sacrifices.

No one nation, of course, could be expected to give up important rights without compensating yielding by others. A common purpose is to be served. To do this a common effort must be put forth.

"Almost every nation totters on the brink of the chasm of insolvency," says the Chamber in its annual report, "with budgets heaping ever-increasing burdens on the shoulders of the taxpayers, depleting capital resources and stifling initiative and enterprise.

This is a gloomy picture but it is a true one. Responsibility for improvement rests upon the governments of the world. It is their duty to seek a way out of the maze of causes that have plunged the world into its present situation. There is a great potential demand for goods. How to stimulate this to activity will be one of the questions confronting the conference.

"The people's need and demand is greater than ever," says the Chamber, "which is one of the fundamentals of trade recovery. But no matter whatever the need or anxiety of the individual may be, it is ruthlessly beset by limitations coming from the rigorous restrictions imposed by the policies of governments. The negotiation of trading has already brought the world to a condition of distraction which, if pursued, must eventually bring consequences of the direct severity."

That the nations of the world recognize that some common action is needed is a promising sign. The possibility of helpful measures coming out of the conference is strengthened by the preparations being made for it and the seriousness with which the undertaking is viewed by the governments which will participate in it.

The chief trouble with Uncle Sam seems to be the survival of a caviar appetite in cheese-and-crackers times.

Echoes of the Past---

By Louise White Watson

Our Own

Our flag as "it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam, in full glory reflected now shines on the stream; 'Tis the Star Spangled Banner, oh, long may it wave O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave." Our own! No other flag, the world over, would cause one to thrill with the glorious outburst, as with hats off, America declares it is our own! When in school in Philadelphia, a group from there went to the Academy of Music to hear Chauncey M. Depew lecture. He was uninvitedly detained and in the interim, the orchestra gave of its musical wealth to the delight of all.

But soon the pulses throbbed with greater activity, the eyes sparkled with joy, the very atmosphere of that vast room seemed charged with an electrical touch. They were playing our own, the songs that belonged to us, and "Dixie" found no North or South, it formed the loving link of patriotism. In our group were a number of Canadians to whom many of the songs were unknown. They caught us by the sleeve demanding the cause of all this elation and when one leaned toward the questioner, for all were now standing, and explained, they settled comfortably back in their seats with an "oh-is-that-all?" air. But then, ah, then, the music caught up our "America." Hats waved, cheers rent the air, voices joined in singing, and there, wildly waving, and joining enthusiastically, patriotically in the singing were the Canadians. And why? The orchestra was playing their own, for the music of their "God Save the King," and our "America," are one and the same.

Then they knew, better than any words could explain, why men and women were caught in that patriotic spirit that thrills and stirs. They were playing our own. They were saying with throbbing pulses, the words of the poet, "This is my own, my native land!" In that song of the parade, each and every one was singing, "There goes my John and there's my Pat!" Ah, it is for our own we hurrah and wildly cheer, or sing softly of "Mother McCree." Our own, as Bayard Taylor in describing the singing soldiers as they lay in camp, each was thinking of his own.

It Belongs

History belongs to the world, to the ages. It is general, but when history bears close and stops along the way at our crossroads, we stand, heads bare, and salute. Listening to the music that sent forth those marchers in the Democratic Convention at Chicago, one heard the quick step and the cheering of "Maryland, My Maryland," one unconsciously beat time when "Dixie" stirred all present; one's thoughts went roving to sunny South as "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia" swung into line. Patriotism is never dead when music marches. Do you recall Emil Jennings, dear death in that famous play, rouses to momentary life when he hears the National Hymn of Russia being played?

Historic Grounds

Does the earth throb as does man, who history calls a halt to the marching forces and calls, "Halt! Here we stand!"? When the Swedes founded the first permanent colony, and established and maintained for 12 years, 1643 to 1655, the first seat of government in Pennsylvania, 39 years before the coming of William Penn, having settlements in Wicaco, Pennsunk, Kingsessing, Philadelphia, did that little spot of Mother Earth know it was to be honored throughout the many coming years? It was our own to the Swedes. They had left homes and country, but they now had come into another section of homes and country lying across the broad seas.

Hon. William C. Sproul, Governor of Pennsylvania in 1921, had the portrait of Johan Printz, Governor of New Sweden, as they called their new possessions, copied and hung in the Executive Mansion, Harrisburg, with this inscription, "Johan Printz, Governor of New Sweden, 1643 to 1653, who established at Tinicum Island, on the Delaware River, the first permanent seat of government in Pennsylvania." Madame Van Helden copied the portrait for him. The original portrait had been presented by King Gustav V. to the Swedish Colonial Society in 1910 and is now in The Historical Society of Pennsylvania. Valued highly, almost reverentially, by the Swedes, and why? It is their own. Many recall how the appellation "Me, too," was given to a certain U. S. Senator. And so one hears England saying, when listening across the waters, to what the Swedes had done in the Keystone State, "but I planted the first permanent settlement of white men in Virginia, in 1607." The Dutch wave for attention, and one hears, "We came to the Hudson River in 1614," and then Plymouth with her patriotic touch exclaims, "We, too, are on the map, for the second group of English settlers came here in 1620." Each for his own.

Evangeline

Who that reads the lines of Longfellow, "Then, as she mounted the stairs to the corridors, cooled by the east-wind, Distant and soft on her ear fell the chimes from the belfry of Christ Church," does not wander off to that City of Brotherly Love and once again visit the Old Swedes Church, the outstanding and most venerable memorial of the early Swedes in Philadelphia; built, 1700. It was in Philadelphia, so sings the poet, that Evangeline, after years of wandering, found her own and gave the glad cry that proclaimed it.

A Stepping Stone

Little in value save as history touched it in its march, is an old carriage stepping-stone, reputed to be the first mile-stone ever used in Pennsylvania and placed in position before Penn came here. It is at the southern end of Old Blue Bell Tavern, where Washington often stopped during his many trips between Mt. Vernon and Philadelphia. The Inn also figured as this scene of his first welcome to Philadelphia as President and also of his last farewell to the city. Why was it that in 1850 and '52, that every time that sweet-voiced singer, Jenny Lind, on her visit to America, was greeted so lovingly by thousands of Swedes? Why? Because the "Swedish Nightingale" was one of ours, as they proudly related to her many admirers. Yes, truly, one of ours. Even on Memorial Day we separate, once having entered the gates enclosing ground sacred to many loved ones, and turn to our own little sections, there to kneel and lay the blossoms of love and tender memories for one of ours.

HULMEVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bunting entertained Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. John Cryer, Penns Manor; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilkinson, Croydon; Mr. and Mrs. William Stackhouse and son Wardell, and Miss Alice Stackhouse, Hulmeville.

Decision was reached Sunday by official board of Neshaminy M. E. Church to erect at the rear of the edifice a Sunday School room, measuring 36 by 34 feet. There will also be a basement placed under the addition, this measuring the same size. The plans will be explained to members of the church Thursday evening at the church. The erection of a new building is made necessary because of steadily increasing attendance in the Sunday School.

A surprise party was tendered Harold H. Haefner at his home here Saturday evening. Fifteen attended, guests being from Philadelphia and Hulmeville.

HOLLYWOOD, ....—Here's a contrast for you!—the uninhibited Mae West with cool and collected Clive Brook!

"Cavalade" Clive will play opposite "She Done Him Wrong" Mae in her new picture, "I'm No Angel." Paramount has decided. The picture is due to start May 29, with Wesley Ruggles directing.

"I'm No Angel" is the latest—and the final, the studio hopes—little for Mae's original story, "Montana Bell." There will be much music in it, with several dance routines. Boris Petroff, Chicago stage musical director, is to tend to the choristic numbers.

Clive Brook's role in the new Mae West picture will be his second for Paramount in short order. He goes into "Midnight Club" with George Raft, when that picture begins soon. These two productions end a five months' absence from the lot, his last Paramount picture being, as I recall it, "The Night of June 13th."

There is a laugh in that Hollywood director and his wife who called an armistice so they could resume bellicosity at a friendly distance. They called in a mutual friend for third party advice on how to arrange the separation.

The three of them got into a fight. So they sent for a lawyer. The legal mind listened for a while and said, "Better send for Lubitsch!"

Another colorful character is likely to go on the screen, if Charles Furlman's ideas work out. He is writing a story around the life of the late Wilson Mizner, who was a legend even before he died and who on many occasions shattered Hollywood with his wit.

Furlman, you'll recall, contributed with two powerful films based on other vivid careers. They were "Street of Chance," based on Rothstein's life, and the Lawyer Fallon picture, both of which had William Powell in the chief roles. He has been free-lancing for several months and has recently written "Million Dollar Beauty," for Paramount, as a possible vehicle for Mae West.

HOLLYWOOD PARADE.

Norman Foster and Claudette Colbert, who seem to have solved the Hollywood problem by staying away from each other, got together over the weekend for a Javanese dinner, served by Norman's Filipino house-boy. . . . Preston Sturges has written a play for George Barbier and wants him to do it on Broadway. . . . They smiled the other day at Alf James, playing a bit in "College Humor." Alf, who was shoveling coal in a scene, is hard of hearing. He didn't know the camera had stopped and kept on shoveling. It took four stage hands to move the coal back. . . . Wynne Gibson goes into "The American," the Mayor Cermak story for Fox. . . . Walter Futter, the screen oddities man, takes his camera along with Gary Cooper's proposed second jaunt into Africa. . . . Lilian Harvey is taking a piece of her two-month vacation now at Palm Springs. She returns to Fox in a few days to shoot that tightwire walking scene and then heads that astounding car of hers up the coast for Yosemite, Del Monte, San Francisco and Seattle. . . . Some one outside the studio got Robert Montgomery on the phone. This is Bob's end of the conversation: "No, I'm not interested in buying stock—" Pause. "No, I'm not interested in buying a house—" Another pause. "Eastern beer? Well, why didn't you say so in the first place?" . . . George Burns and Gracie Allen, the radio pair now headed for New York, will make some Paramount shorts there before they go to England. . . . Von Sternberg helped Marlene Dietrich on her final portrait sittings for "The Song of Songs."

The Comforts of the American Home

IT IS a well-known fact that, home for home, the American household has more comforts and conveniences than that of any other nation.

In foreign lands the modernized dwelling is found only in the better sections of the larger cities.

In America, even in remote rural districts, you find the radio, the vacuum cleaner, washing machines, up-to-date heating systems, telephones and numberless labor-saving appliances.

There is a well-kept look about residence, store or outbuildings with an atmosphere of prosperity and content.

Did you ever stop to realize why this is so; how this condition was brought about?

It is largely due to advertising. And a big share of the credit belongs to newspaper advertising.

Stop and think how many of the foods you eat, the things you wear and other articles entering into your every-day life, you first heard of through newspaper advertisements.

You will then realize what a part they do play, or should play, in your daily life.

Read the advertisements in the newspapers regularly and thoroughly, if you are not already doing so. They mean more to you than you can tell.

Lippincott, Mary Ellen and Edward McDevitt, Mary and Jane Brennan, J. Gosline.

Jane received a number of gifts.

FLOWER COLORS ARE MOST IMPORTANT IN THEIR ARRANGEMENT

The flowers are gorgeous this year. Floriculturists have improved the strains. This has become a Garden Club age. The public is becoming "flower-conscious" and learning more and more how to get full pleasure from flowers after bringing them into the house.

Women hear much about color these days—color in the kitchen, color in business, color in everything.

Flowers are no longer just pink and blue. They come in practically every color and intermediate shade and every color has a meaning all its own.

There are the "cool" colors—blue, violet and green in varying shades and tints; there are the "warm" colors—reds, oranges and red violets.

An arrangement of flowers is now more than just "a bunch of flowers." It is something to work with.

Bouquets should be arranged in one of three general color combinations to be correct. To create a monochromatic color harmony, use tints or shades of the same color. Combinations of closely-related colors, such as those with the "cool" colors we have mentioned, make for an analogous color harmony. The familiar "mixed bouquets" are combinations of complementary or opposite colors.

SUNDAY BALL SEASON GETS STARTED NEAR HERE

Edgely A. C. defeated Morrisville by the score of 6 to 1, yesterday.

Edgely won easily over the visitors knocking out 12 hits, despite the efforts of the visitors who used three hurlers.

"Pete" Minkema, Edgely's star pitcher, was in fine form, getting 16 strikeouts and allowing only five hits. "Sid" Purcell, Edgely's catcher, led the hitting with three sizzling doubles, scoring two of the six runs.

It took the White Elephants 11 innings to defeat the Bristol Park A. A. yesterday afternoon on the Park Field. Curry with four hits led the losers, while Grimes' four hits and Hughes' five led the winners. The final score was 13 to 11 in favor of White Elephants.

The Young Italians defeated the Jefferson A. C. by the score of 21 to 7, yesterday. The feature of the game was two home runs from the bat of Tony Angelo, receiver for the Italians. The winners collected 16 hits. McClafferty led the losers with four hits.

Shad Running Fairly Well In Upper Delaware River

NEW HOPE, May 1.—According to dispatches from the vicinity of New Hope along the upper Delaware River, shad are running fairly well, with the spawning season at its height.

But fishermen have been badly handicapped by high water, resulting from heavy rains during the last week or so.

The Scarborough fishery at New Hope hasn't been able to run its nets many times, and the Lewis fishery on the island has been hampered the same way. However, Lewis also has fishing rights below the bridge, and has made several nice hauls there.

Several days ago the Lewis crew netted 59 shad and 19 on the following day. But on Monday a week ago, the catch amounted to 109. Even at that there hasn't been much demand, although the price has dropped from $1 to 75c on buck shad, and from $2 to $1.50 on roe. Most of them are being shipped away. Those who have enjoyed shad from this season's catch report the meat is unusually sweet and palatable.

There was a crazy rumor afloat last week that an alligator had been netted by one of the fisheries, but escaped. There was absolutely no foundation for the rumor. Perhaps a log got into the net, causing some one to say it looked like an alligator. For that's the way rumors usually start.

A lot of strange things have been caught in local shad nets in times past, but no alligators. Nearly every season sturgeon are caught, the last one being by the Scarborough fishery in 1931, weighing 129 pounds. Last week the Lewis nets were reported logging a 16-pound pike, but of course it was immediately returned to the water, for it is a protected game fish.

LEAGUE MEETING

Bristol M. E. Epworth League will hold its monthly meeting tomorrow night in the league room of the church at eight o'clock. The session will be followed by song rehearsal for the coming Bristol Group rally. Refreshments will be served. The president asks that all attend, as business of importance is to be considered.

Mrs. John R. Davis, 341 Jefferson Avenue, is paying a several days' visit to friends in Philadelphia.

BRISTOL TWILIGHT LEAGUE OPENS SEASON TONIGHT

Tonight on Sullivan's field, the opening game of the Bristol Twilight League will get under way. The Jefferson A. C. newcomers into the league will meet the Hibernians. The fray is scheduled to start at six-thirty o'clock.

The Jefferson team is presenting a strong line-up for its first appearance in the twilight league. Several stars of the league who were with other teams in the past season are now playing under the Jefferson colors.

The batteries for the "Mules" tonight will most likely be "Reds" McCurry, a southpaw on the mound, and "Joe" Britton, catcher. For the "Hibs," Ennis and Roe.

Tomorrow night, the Damp Wash A. A. will play Edgely at Edgely.

Garden Applications Being Received; Plots Near Yardley

YARDLEY, May 1.—Applications are being received in large number for the Community Gardens, near here, despite the fact that the past two weeks have been marked by cool weather and rains.

It is planned to plow and cultivate the ground on the J. A. Cadwallader farm, along the Yardley-Morrisville road, as soon as soil conditions make it possible. This work will be done through kindness of Mr. King of King's Farm.

Those who wish to secure plots in that section are advised to send in applications as soon as possible, as those in charge of the garden project desire to order seeds, and wish to know how many plots to place in readiness. Hans Burkhardt of Yardley R. D. is the director of the gardens.

From the contacts the Garden Director has had with prospective gardeners and many others it becomes evident that the idea of a Community Garden is slowly taking root. To a great many people it is something new and it will take some time before the idea is more generally accepted, but this seems to be one of these things which the present conditions force upon all.

Community Gardens, which are carried on successfully in hundreds of places at the present time rest upon two simple principles. The principle of self help and working together; and the idea of supervision and intelligent direction.

STATE NEWS

WILLIAMSPORT — (INS) — Needy families here ate buckwheat cakes and sausage for breakfast every morning this winter under a plan similar to President Roosevelt's reforestation program.

Frank E. Plankenborn, Williamsport businessman, employed a score or more of men all winter in clearing underbrush from a hundred-acre tract on the outskirts of the city.

The men were paid a cord of wood for each day they worked, as well as a quantity of buckwheat flour and sausage. Plankenborn sold the remaining wood, bought the flour and sausage, and divided the food equally among the workers.

CORRY — (INS) — H. E. Manley, of the Corry relief fund, will again have charge of unemployed gardens in this city. Plans have been made for distribution of seeds.

BUTLER — (INS) — Egg producers of Butler and six adjoining counties have formed the Butler co-operative egg auction, the first organization of its kind in western Pennsylvania. Similar auctions are operated at Doylestown, Center Point, and Coatesville in eastern Pennsylvania.

The purpose of the auction is to promote a better market for eggs by standardizing and grading. The work is promoted by H. N. Reist, marketing specialist, and H. H. Kaufman, extension poultry specialist, both of State College.
